COMMONWEALTH EDISON COMPANY'S COMMENTS
REGARDING FURTHER UNBUNDLING OF DELIVERY SERVICES

Commonwealth Edison Company ("ComEd"), by its attorneys, hereby responds to the Illinois Commerce Commission's October 3, 2003 Notice of Request for Comments Regarding Investigation Into Additional Unbundling of Delivery Services (the "Notice") as follows:

It is ComEd's understanding from the Illinois Commerce Commission ("ICC") Staff that the purpose of these comments is to essentially survey the parties to determine whether there is any interest in, or need for, further unbundling and whether further proceedings (e.g., workshops and formal comments) will be necessary. Therefore, in the interest of administrative efficiency, ComEd keeps its comments brief and to the point and reserves the right to comment further should the need arise.

The Notice requests that ComEd respond to the following questions:

1. Are there any additional delivery services that should be unbundled?

Response: At this time, ComEd does not recommend that any additional delivery services should be unbundled.

2. Should metering and billing services be further unbundled?

Response: At this time, ComEd does not recommend that metering or billing services should be further unbundled.

Dated: October 22, 2003

Respectfully submitted,

COMMONWEALTH EDISON COMPANY
